About Jacqui Rosshandler

Jacqui Rosshandler, an Aussie turned New Yorker, is the president and COO of Jacquii LLC. A business dynamo, Jacqui said, "My first dream was to create a revolutionary product delivering kissable breath essentially from within where odorous food goes in the first place. I'm living that dream now with Eatwhatever, soon to be joined by WoofMints, a product created for the pet market providing more sociable breath for dogs (canines); 'excited' about the launch is an understatement."

About Jacquii LLC

Founded as Jacquean Products LLC in 2008, the company began selling a boutique version of the product Eatwhatever in niche stores like Colette (Paris), Zitomer, C.O, Bigelow and Ricky's (NYC), then on global websites Amazon, Victoria Health, and Shopmasc. Late 2010, Jacqui met Arthur Shorin, former CEO of Topps, a multi-national company famous for products such as Topps baseball cards, Bazooka bubble gum and Ring Pops. Arthur "got" Eatwhatever instantly, and a new growth chapter began as Jacquii LLC. Today, Eatwhatever is on counters in fine stores across the US such as Duane Reade, Whole Foods, Fairways, Fresh Markets, Dylan's Candy, Earth Fare and many more. The company eagerly anticipates its WoofMints launch and hopes that with both products eventually everyone (two AND four legged) can eat whatever (including onion and garlic!) and feel confident and kissable.
